SUPERINTENDENT

MR. O. L. JOHNSON

Superintendent—

A. B., De Pauw University,
M. A., Indiana State.

Mr. Johnson's guidance during this year as superintendent has been responsible for much success in Linton-Stockton High School. He has been ready at all times to boost any idea which will forward improvement of our school.

MRS. MARY JANE GILL

Secretary to Superintendent

Bookkeeper

Mary Jane carries out her duties very successfully in both positions. Her co-operation with the students has been greatly appreciated.

MISS ESTELLE PHILLIPS

Principal—

A. B., De Pauw University

A. M., Indiana University

As principal of the high school during the past year, Miss Phillips' duties have consisted of organizing the detailed work of the school. She has carried out her work most efficiently and faithfully. Her friendly and sympathetic leadership has won our deep respect.

S E N I O R S

In 1941 a group of Freshmen came to town
To help wear Linton-Stockton High School down.
When we arrived upon the scene,
The seniors that met us were on the beam.
We had to salute, those fellows to suit.
Right then and there we made up our minds,
When we became seniors, wouldn't we shine!

We worked hard that first short year,
Getting our lessons without shedding a tear;
We went straight through, and, by the way,
Honors were ours, as sophomores, the last day.
Our sophomore class at first seemed bright and gay;
Soon harder and harder the work became
Until we believed we in school must stay.
We worked a bit harder with our minds set to win
And finally we worked right through to the end.

As time went on in lots of fun,
We juniors at last had begun
To realize the meaning of education—
That we might become part of civilization.
Our studies, our sports, and our parties too
We worked at hard, until we all knew
That without fear we could accomplish the last year too.

To some there came a call, a consecrated cause,
Approved by Heav'n, ordained by Nature's laws.
Oh! 'Twas our country's voice, whose claim they had to meet,
An echo in their souls' most deep retreat;
Along their hearts responding chords did run,
Nor let a tone there vibrate—but the one!
Our country lay bleeding—they hastened to aid,
"For one arm that defends is worth hosts that invade."
We have moved on without them to our last step up the ladder,
We pray they'll come home soon, so our dreams won't shatter.

Now our senior year we've gained,
And over all the lower classes come to reign.
We've reached the end of the last hard year;
We'll receive our diplomas with just a few tears.
Our lessons we've finished, and our books we've closed,
But still there is much to learn on Life's long road.
As we travel over that stormy way
Let us work to reach another goal some day.

ROTARY AWARDS

The Rotary Citizenship Awards are based upon character, physique, scholarship, attitude, personality, and community spirit exemplified by a senior boy and girl during their four years of high school.

Each year various awards are presented to seniors. This year in the American Legion Oratorical Contest, Betty Clark won first in local and automatically attained first place in county when no other contestants took part. The second winner was Betty Giffin, and third was Normalee Hunley.

Betty Clark participated in the district contest held at Martinsville and won second place.

Scholarships were awarded to: Sara Grey Hixson for Indiana University, Charles Bedwell and Alfred Moehlmann Jr. to Purdue University, Betty Clark to Ball State Teachers College, June Wright and Barbara Robison alternates to Indiana University, and Margaret Morrison to Hanover.

AMERICAN LEGION

The Frank Courtney American Legion Post presents the American Legion Award to the student who has attained the highest scholastic record during his high school career.

We, the Senior Class of Linton-Stockton High School, being noted for intelligence, brilliant recitations, and refined qualities, and knowing how our school days are numbered, do hereby declare this to be our last will and testament.

We will our good times during our four years at L-S. H.S. to all students here now and to the ones who will come later. To them we also will our pep at the ball games and our ability to dance at the school parties.

We give to the juniors the ability to have a successful prom, such as we had in '44, the honor of being a senior, the feeling of pride when we initiated the freshmen, the ability to get out of library, our noted salesmanship in our magazine campaign, and to the junior girls, the right to collect diamond rings.

To the sophomores, the right some day to be called the superior race and also our courage to endure hardships without complaining.

To the freshmen, we give our thanks for their splendid co-operation. We wish them success in the future and hope some of them will finally grow up. May they have three more years of schooling.

To the coming freshman we will the times we suffered during our initiation.

To all the football and basketball boys, the pleasure of collecting kisses after each game and the ability to win as many games as we have.

To next year's Journalism Class, the ability of getting each school paper out on time without any errors in it.

To everyone that will be in school in the coming years, we will our standing places in the hall.

We that are now studying physics and chemistry, will Mr. Witty his books and test tubes.

To Mr. Gabbard, our ability to keep our minds on the lesson in economics class.

To Miss Heaton, our bookkeeping workbooks—what is left of them.
To Miss Osborn, all the typewriters and typing books.

To. Mrs. Taylor, everything we have learned in government.

To Miss Phillips, all the seniors she can get to take public speaking and journalism next year.

To all the teachers, their equipment, such as books, pamphlets on which we had to report, and examination papers.

To Linton-Stockton High School, our best regards for future success.

We do hereby declare this to be our last will and testament, signed and sealed this twenty-second day of May, nineteen hundred and forty-five.

One cold day last week as I walked down the street of a small town in Maine, I happened to meet one of my old classmates, Barbara Robison. With great amazement I said, "What on earth are you doing here?" She said that she was now an author and was living in New York. She was on her way to Canada to spend a few weeks before beginning her new book entitled "Who Knows". Since she had three hours to wait before the next train, I invited her to my home.

While we were sitting on the couch in front of a large fireplace, we began to talk of our classmates. I saw a vision; then I looked at Barb; yes, she also saw it. We both watched as the fire burned brightly.

First we saw a large gymnasium. As I watched the game, I noticed two outstanding players. Why, they were twin boys. Who could they be? Barb pointed out two adults sitting on the front row of the cheering section. They were Joan Mitchell and Bill McNew, who are now Mr. and Mrs. The boys were their sons. Then I noticed the referee, who to my surprise was Max Woolsey. The coach was Junior Moelmann, who had married his sophomore sweetheart.

The scene changed to a building, "Bull's Painless Dentist Office." John had followed in his parents' footsteps. On the street I saw Wilbur Page, who had a large book under his arm. He stopped in front of "Corbin's Cleaners," which had John Corbin's name in large letters on the window. Looking up we saw Jack Wheeler three stories up washing windows. Wilbur yelled and asked him if he didn't want to take out an insurance policy. Jack said, "No, I'm going to die of old age." Farther down the street we spied Margaret Marter, who was in the uniform of a registered nurse.

I put another log on the fire and the vision became clearer. The G. C. Murphy Store came into view next. Mary Wilson, Evelyn Sims, Alberta Jackson, Sara G. Hixon, and Jessie Mellick were still clerking there. Tommy McGriffin was advertising song hit books with that wonderful voice of his. Betty Tiek has become the assistant manager. Just outside the store stood a tall, dark, and handsome policeman talking to Patty Alexander. As he looked at Patty, I recognized him as Gene Friedman.

Barbara asked me if I had ever heard anything about our old classmates, Betty Rippy and Hobert Cooper. Just then the scene changed to a small house with Betty cooking in the kitchen and Hobert listening to the radio. A small child was playing on the floor. From their conversation, I learned that Vera Ladson was now a champion roller skater. Betty Giffin was married to a millionaire and lived in a large house near Linton. Betty Clark had just returned from her first missionary journey to China. Betty also mentioned how nicely the widow, Joanna Carr, and her twelve children were getting along raising huge flocks of chickens on their large farm. Betty Alsop, so they said, was happily situated in her new home which her husband had built. Betty Herndon and her husband had moved to California to a large estate that was left to Betty.

This time the scene changed to a large city which we recognized as New York. An exclusive dress shop came into view. There were Norma Madaris and Imogene Rice as models.

We saw Lillian selling novelties and paintings at "Kolhouse's Specialty Shop." Her helper was artist Barbara Bedwell. On a nearby street corner stood no other than Bill Spear selling papers.

The vision began to fade, so I punched the fire to make the blaze brighter. A very interesting scene appeared. We now saw a large church. As the organ played in its low sweet tones, I looked at the organist. Could it be so? Yes, it was June Wright playing, "Here Comes the Bride." Softly came the approach of footsteps down the aisle. Glancing up I saw Barbara Hannum, with her long sweeping train trailing far behind her, entering on John Curtis's arm. When they reached the altar, the minister raised his head to speak. He was none other than Bill Huff. My, doesn't time change everything?

When the ceremony was over, Barbara threw her bouquet to the waiting bridesmaids. It was caught by Margaret Morrison.

After leaving the church some people entered a lunch room. As I read the sign, "Pondwater's Cafe", the interior came into view and there was the proprietor, Clyde Wright. His head-waitresses were Phyllis Russell and Phyllis Booher. Sitting at a booth in a far corner were John Stefancik and Georganna Geatches. Georganna was trying to persuade John to sell his farm and move to town. At one end of the lunch room, Bill Hattery was selling pamphlets entitled, "How to Keep a Girl Guessing". When Betty Vest walked in, he pushed them under the table. Then a very dignified lady and a young man entered; apparently they were renewing their friendship, which didn't take long. As the girl turned her head in my direction, I recognized her as Helen Bemis and her companion as Bob Tucker. I learned that Helen was a beauty operator and Bob was an undertaker. They mentioned a few of their old classmates of "45". Edith Harbin, Betty Vincent, and Betty Steele, who had done so well in speech class, were now announcing and advertising over the radio. Bob asked Helen about Leora Carson. Helen said, "Leora has a very special millinery shop in Linton. Some of her best customers are Mary Esther Wakefield, Marjorie Lucas, Rosemary Sims, and Mary Elkins, who are secretaries to some very prominent men from our neighboring town of Marco." Bob said Barbara Murdock, Elvedia Burris, Betty Coakley, and Kate McBride are old maids living together just outside Linton.

Jean Strong is happily married with four little Hacklers. Deany Wilkes, who is now in Hollywood as the "Dancing Girl" is very famous but is still looking for a man. Her dancing partner is Charles Halbach. As their conversation continued, I learned that Clifford Edwards and Caryl Himebrook had taken over the "Ball Band Shoe Store" at South Bend, Indiana. Bill Sims was working as a salesman in their store. Just then someone put a nickel in the juke box and I recognized Pauline Denman and Norma McAtee singing, "I Don't Let the Boys Worry My Mind."

We edged closer to the fire as the scene changed to a large living room. A door bell rang and, as the butler started to answer it, I noticed he was Charles Bedwell. When the door was opened a surprise was awaiting me. I noticed first the visitor's neat looking uniform; then in a flash I recognized him to be Miller Pritchard S 1/c. In came Dewey Gaunnac to welcome him. During their conversation I could tell that Dewey was the Superintendent of our dear old L. H. S. I could see through the parlor into the dining room where Mary Henderson was setting the table for dinner. Miller turned on the radio just in time to hear that the next song would be sung by Normalee Hunley.

The vision beamed very dim and Barb glanced at the clock. It was almost time for her train; so I hurried to the station with her. We were both glad to know about our old classmates.

J U N I O R S

In September of forty-two
We entered the school of red and blue.
When we pulled open the doors,
Everyone knew our scores;
For we were looking for numbers upon them.

Gee! we surely felt green,
For everything seemed like a dream.
When the clock went-a-buzzing,
And everyone went running,
We Freshmen stopped to see
What was coming.

We fell in line with the others;
I guess we've done quite well;
For now 'tis "45" and time did tell.
Some have played football
And basketball too,
And fought for the glory
Of our old red and blue.

We've played our part gladly,
I'm sure you'll agree,
For everything done has come up to a "T."
We will go right ahead through our senior year too.
So, Juniors, do you see what we're going to do?

The Student Council, which was formed in 1928 by the government class, has created a better understanding between the students and faculty.

Through being permitted to help in the planning of such school activities as convocations, noon recreation, traffic, and school parties, the students feel a more personal interest in the affairs of the school. One of their other duties is choosing a senior boy for Student Rotarian.

All groups and students are represented. In addition to the student elected from each home room, there are also ex-officio members — class and organization presidents.

The Scitamard Club is of great value to the school, not only because it gives the members of the organization a chance to act in a play and help produce one, but the students also have a chance to see a play on the legitimate stage.

This year the club gave a three-act comedy, "And Came the Spring."

The club had the misfortune of losing its president when Miller Pritchard joined the Navy.

The purpose of G. A. A. is to promote interest in gymnastics and athletic activities among the girls of Linton-Stockton High School as a means of promoting physical efficiency and good fellowship.

One of the highlights of the G. A. A. year is the initiation party in which all new members must participate.

In their meetings which are held in the gymnasium the girls take part in such sports as basketball, volley ball, and badminton. They also engage in tennis, hiking, and skating.

Girl Reserve is the national name for our local organization Blue Tri. It is a branch of the Y. W. C. A. It has been a prominent organization in the school for the last eighteen years.

Any high school girl who will prove her sincerity by meeting the requirements of the club may become a member.

The code of the Blue Tri is:

AS A GIRL RESERVE

I WILL TRY
(slogan)

TO FACE LIFE SQUARELY
(purpose)

TO FIND AND GIVE THE BEST
(code)

AND TO BE

Gracious in manner
Impartial in judgment
Ready for service
Loyal to friends
Reaching toward the best
Earnest in purpose

The Club, which is made up of girls who are interested in music, has added much interest to our various convocations. These girls also take part in the commencement exercises.

By practicing during two activity periods a week they are able to develop an excellent chorus.

Their uniforms, like those of the band, are blue, trimmed with red.

FIRST ROW: Doris Fritz, Geraldine McDowell, Mary Wilson, James Fritz, Rusty Edwards, Kenneth Johnson, Norma McAtee, Beverly Lawrence, Yvonne Brown, Normalee Hunley, Maurice Martindale.

THIRD ROW: Katie Hodges, Virginia May, Mr. Barnes, director; Rex Tuttle, Rex Luxton, Bobbie Bough, Wesley Hensley, John Hodges, Buddy Cline, Nancy Smith, Patty Wright, Barbara Goodwin, Billy Roll, Jeanne Phillips.

The Band gives all students who are interested a chance to increase their skill in music through organized practice.

One of the band's chief contributions to the school was its activities during the football season. Besides playing at nearly all the home games, the band members also gave much of their time to the pep sessions that were held. Another of their activities was playing for war bond and political rallies.

Much of the credit for a successful band should go to Mr. Barnes, the director.

These twirlers have added a note of distinction to our band, which it would have lacked otherwise.

The majorettes have uniforms of red and white satin. The twirlers have blue jackets, similar to those of the band, and white skirts. The substitute twirlers have red sweaters and white skirts.

They are also under the leadership of Mr. Barnes.

FIRST ROW: Bill Marshall, Miss Baughman, sponsor; Bill Newkirk.

SECOND ROW: Bob Froeschke, Phyllis Plew, Patty Wright, Sammy Taylor.

During their meeting, which is held twice a month in the activity period, the Stamp Club discusses the various phases of stamps. Some of the topics which have been discussed are new issues, foreign stamps, the history and geography connected with foreign stamps, and special issues. The subject which the club has found the most interesting is that of old stamps.

Their other activities are displaying stamp collections and exchanging stamps.

"The Shar-a-Lyke 4-H Club's Work is a part of the National Agriculture Extension Program. Through it, boys and girls in school and out of school are taught better farm and home practices and the finer and more significant things in life. The real object of 4-H club work is the development of the boys and girls in such a way that both the individual and society will be benefited to the greatest possible extent."

The junior leaders were Rose Scecina, Betty Pankey, Doris Fritz, Geraldine McDowell, Geneva West, and Betty Alsop.

Sally Pergal, Carol Jeane Shepard, Maryanna Shepard, and Rose Scecina received placings in the County Dress Review.

Doris Fritz, and Geraldine McDowell were representatives from the county in the District Judging at Brazil.

Bedonna Bolten and Joyce Mitchell were elected to send work to the State Fair.

The members of the boys 4-H clubs of Stockton Township feel that they have completed one of their most successful club years. Fifty-three members completed their respective projects by exhibiting at the annual county 4-H club fair. Of these, 22 received blue ribbons and first placings.

Those members receiving sweepstakes ribbons were: Charles Winters, Duroc gilt class; Frank Wilson, in the poultry class with a heavy pen of White Rocks; Joanna Carr, junior garden exhibit; Eric Thornton, senior garden exhibit.

In addition to these, Harry Gabbard was awarded the annual gold medal for being judged the outstanding county beef club member; Eric Thornton received a gold medal for placing third in the county garden contest, and Dick Mitchell received honorable mention and placed second in poultry. In a county-wide judging contest, Wendell Ladson, Jim Smith, and Frank Wilson were selected as members of the poultry judging team which entered the district contest and later the state contest at Purdue, and Harry Gabbard was a member of the livestock judging team, both teams winning trips to the state contest.

Many of these boys have practiced hard all season; however they did not make the team. All they received for their labor this year were hard knocks and disappointment, but they are the ones who will make up next year's team. We are sure that their work will not have been without reward.

On September 8, our football team, the Linton Miners, opened their 1944 season by playing the Dugger Bulldogs on our home field. The Miners tramped Dugger by a 25-0 count.

Our next game looked as if it would be a hard-fought thriller. It was! The team from Gerstmeyer of Terre Haute came out on top with a 13-7 score.

Garfield, a team which had defeated us in former years, did it again. The Purple Eagles were too much for us to handle and we were swamped, 27-0.

The next game was to be played at Huntingburg. We won this game 13 to 0, scoring twice in the last quarter.

Boonville came next on October 6. We had several big pep sessions to help the boys beat Boonville, and they did, 14 to 0, in a game that was a thriller.

On Friday, the 13th of October, we played Vincennes. Neither Linton nor Vincennes was lucky that night and the game ended, after a bitter struggle, in a scoreless tie.

Our next cry was "On to Brazil." After a hard fought game the score-board read "Brazil 13, Linton 6."

Bloomington, a team that had received state recognition, was to play here next. Much to our sorrow, we were defeated 19 to 6.

On November the third we played Bicknell, who had had a fairly successful season, and they were really "gunning" for us. We won, 43-0.

Our last game, the traditional Linton vs. Sullivan game, came on Armistice Day, November 11. Since that school is our bitterest rival, beating Sullivan alone would make any season a successful one; but much as we wished it other wise, they defeated us by the score of 25 to 0.

This brought the season of 1944 to a close. Although we won only 4 games and tied 1, while losing 5, the season can be considered a successful one because of the opportunities given the boys who are interested in athletics and because of the school spirit which it helped to develop.

We salute the Linton football team of "44."

RAY HUBBLE: Sophomore, made honorable mention on All-State Team. Ray should be an outstanding player in the next two years.

JOHN CORBIN: Senior versatile player, played both in backfield and at end, punter and passer.

JACK WHEELER: Senior, right tackle, hard worker, and good team player.

TOM DUDLEY: Junior, quarterback, hard working, conscientious, and with a desire to play.

TIM HIMEBROOK: Senior, little but mighty, back.

FRANK MILLER: Junior, running guard. Second all Wabash Valley team.

JUNIOR PERIGO: Junior, center and back. Outstanding passer. Should really hit his peak in '45.

BOB KELLER: Junior, a good end. Much is expected of Bob in '45. Also a place kicker.

MARION WOOLSEY: Freshman, back, Left-handed, and a threat in any ball game.

BOB MATHENA: Junior, plays guard and end. Should develop into a regular in '45.

CHARLES RICHARDSON: Sophomore, guard. Big, rugged, tough. He likes it best when the going is toughest.

WILBUR PAGE: Senior, tackle. Hardest tackler on squad.

JOHN STEFANCIK: Senior, tackle. Willing to play any place, any time.

HARRY GABBARD: Junior, back. Should really get going next season.

BOB ELKINS: Freshman, end. A very promising player. Has everything needed.

LEE RICHARDSON: Sophomore, center. Two more years should see him develop into one of the best.

BUD PETERSON: Sophomore, back. Petee should be one of our outstanding backs the next two years.

TED OGLE: Freshman, guard or tackle. Has the size and a desire to play.

BILL ORMAN: Sophomore, tackle. Expected to fill one of the gaps at tackle in '45.

CLYDE WRIGHT: Senior, back. Faithful, dependable, and regular.

JOHN CURTIS: Senior, back. The best of his size for hitting the line. A real driver.

WILLARD HAM: Junior back. Will be a blocker par excellence next fall. Also a dependable ball carrier.

GYMNASIUM

In the four years we have used our new gymnasium it has been the center of all athletic activities. During this time our basketball teams have won 52 of the 57 games played here. The teams have also won all of the tournaments—four Wabash Valley Preliminaries and two State Sectionals—played here. All the equipment is kept here during the football season. The inter-class tourneys are played in the gym.

This spring a new activity, track, has been started. For the first time in several years Linton is to be represented in track as well as in basketball and football. The team is under the leadership of Mr. Wells.

We hope that this new activity will be a success in the future.

Sometimes when a school has a good varsity team, it forgets that there are others who are also working hard. The "B" team must not be overlooked, for it has a record that is nearly perfect.

From this it would seem that Linton would be sure to have a winning team for the next few years. In fifteen starts they have won fourteen games. Their only defeat came at the hands of Washington; then the score was close, 17 to 15. One of their outstanding feats was defeating Pleasantville's first team 39 to 24. They have averaged 28 points per game to their opponents' 19.

The line up of the "B" team varies because after a good showing a player may be moved to the "A" team, but generally it was made up of the following: "Hunk" Richardson, Owen Richardson, Bud Peterson, Marion Woolsey, Harry Gabbard, Willard Ham, Bob Elkins, Roy Price, Shirley Osborn, and Alfred McBride.

LINTON 32-BICKNELL. 24. The Miners began their season on November 24 by invading Bicknell and taking the game after a hard fought battle.

LINTON 36-CENTRAL OF EVANSVILLE 32. Linton defeated a powerful team when the boys journeyed to "E" town for their second game of the season.

LINTON 36-BOSSE 37. This game was unusual in two respects. First the Miners were playing the State Champs, and second it was their first home game. This was one of the best games ever played in Linton's gym. It extended into an overtime. With three seconds to go and with Linton holding a one-point lead, Eosse secured the ball on a jump and made the winning basket just as the gun sounded.

LINTON 36-Brazil 35. Defeating Brazil put Linton in the running for the first West Central Penant. It was a game in which Linton was always in front, but Brazil was never far behind.

LINTON 41-SWITZ CITY 13. In this game, it was Linton all the way, for Switz City never threatened their lead.

LINTON 47-LYONS 24. On December 13 the Miners went to Lyons and took their count in an easy game.

LINTON 36-BLOOMFIELD 35. In a torrid battle on the Bloomfield floor the Cardinals came from behind to nearly outscore the the Linton Miners.

LINTON 37-BOONVILLE 40. After Linton had led most of the game, Boonville tied the score in the last ten seconds. In a double overtime, a free throw and a field goal gave the game to Boonville.

LINTON 42-WASHINGTON 34. After this game Linton found herself in the winner's column again. The team also made one of its best showings of the season.

LINTON 37-GARFIELD 36. Linton's second conference game was a fast, hard played, see-saw affair. The winning basket was made in the last fifteen seconds by Marion Woolsey.

LINTON 51-JASONVILLE 32. Linton defeated the Yellow Jackets in a one-sided contest.

LINTON 46-BLOOMFIELD 36. In a return engagement Bloomfield bowed to the Miners who were now in eighth place on the state poll.

WABASH VALLEY. The team sailed through the "Preliminaries" by defeating Newberry 101 to 15; Midland 47 to 11, and Elnora 55 to 19. In their first game in the finals Linton met State High. After a hard battle State High was on the short end of a 48 to 43 score. Linton was defeated by Loogootee in the second round, 28 to 27.

LINTON 25-BLOOMINGTON 34. Bloomington added to Linton's woes by defeating the team on its own floor.

LINTON 27-SULLIVAN 21. By defeating Sullivan Linton not only got back into the winning but also cinched the West Central Conference.

LINTON 72-SWITZ CITY 20. The Miners rolled to an easy victory over the Switzers.

LINTON 55-DUGGER 29. In the last scheduled game of the season Linton won a decisive victory from the visiting Dugger Bulldogs.

STATE SECTIONALS. Linton really rolled in the preliminaries of the tourney. The Miners defeated Midland 55 to 31; Marco 49 to 34; Lyons 63 to 39, and in the final game took Bloomfield's count 53 to 35.

STATE REGIONALS: In the first game the boys from Linton defeated the Spencer Cops by the score of 60 to 39. In the final game Gerstmeyer defeated Linton 50 to 45 after a hard game.

Linton's fightin' Miners played their toughest cage schedule in many years and finished a season which included such notables as Bosse of Evansville, (state champs of '44 and '45), Central of Evansville, Washington, Bloomington, Brazil, Garfield, Boonville, and State of Terre Haute with twenty-two victories and five defeats.

Clyde Wright, the boy that stopped Broc Jerrell of Bosse, played the greatest game of his career against the state champs. He stopped Broc cold and outscored him 7 to 3.

Junior Moehlmann will be remembered as the pivot artist, the boy that jumped into the air above his opposition and put the ball in one-handed. Made the all regional team at Terre Haute.

Gene Friedman, who took the ball off the bankboard, was considered one of the best rebounders in the valley, Gene's height and slenderness gave the opponents a lot of trouble around the bankboard.

Bill McNew, 'reliable Bill' the coach called him, was always ready to stop a fast break. McNew was the best long shot that the Miners had. When the opponents would be expecting Bill to shoot from out on the floor he would drive under for a lay-up. He received all state honorable mention in the semi-finals.

Max Woolsey added strength to the Miners' line-up when he became eligible January 12. Max served with the Merchant Marines for about a year and a half. Max's aggressiveness and throwing passes stood out. He was alert and ready to break up passes made by the opponents. Chosen by Glenn Curtis to play on the all state team against Kentucky.

Tommy Dudley, a junior, played a lot of good basketball for the Miners. Tommy was a little late getting started because of a football injury that kept him out the first half of the season. Tommy was "hittin' 'em" when tourney time came around.

Junior Perigo, another junior, started the season with a bang. His cutting, stops, and pivots gave his opponents a lot of worries.

Willard Ham, whom the coach called "Bacon," proved to be a hard driving 'hombre' that was always giving his best. Willard is a junior and will be in there pitching next year.

Bob Keller, also a junior, always could be depended on when he was put in the ball game. He proved his ability against Bosse and Garfield when he was asked to go into the game after Moehlmann left via the foul route.

Bud Peterson, a sophomore, did not play junior high basketball but proved himself a veteran before the season ended. Bud is noted for his dribbling and handling of the ball. He has two more years, and during these two years Peterson will be playing a lot of basketball for the Miners.

Marion Woolsey, a left handed sharp-shooter, put the Miners in a double overtime with Boonville. Marion, who is a freshman, scored seventeen points in that game.

Harry Gabbard's ability to shoot with either hand kept his opponents guessing. Harry was one of the reasons why the "B" team won fourteen and lost only one.

BE BE RICHARDS, RICARDA BLAND, ROSEMARIE TINCHER, SHIRLEY FRANKS

We had the good fortune of having two yell leaders held over from last year. They are Rosemary Tincher, a junior, and Ricarda Bland, a sophomore. In addition, two were recruited from last year's Junior High leaders. They are Shirley Franks and BeBe Richards.

The yell leaders have added much to the success of our team, for their enthusiasm has encouraged the fans to give the team their full support.

This year they received new yell suits of red sweaters and red skirts.

Much of the credit for successful yell leaders should go to Miss McDonald, their sponsor.

MANAGERS

BILL SPEAR, DONNIE WORKMAN, JOHN BULL

Did you ever stop to think that it is the student managers who keep all the equipment ready for the ball players? They are on their toes at all times. It is their job to see that there are extra outfits at the team's disposal. They also give minor first aid. Their job does not stop when the game is over, for it is up to them to see that everything is in readiness for the next game. Their work is important to the success of our team.

BOB ELKINS, CHARLES RICHARDSON, TOMMY DUDLEY, JACK WHEELER, KING; JUNE WRIGHT, QUEEN; NORMA McPHAIL, RITA HALBACH, BARBARA GILMOUR.

It has been a custom for several years to have a home-coming king and queen at our last home football game. This year they were crowned at the pep session before the game. They were chosen one from each class by the vote of their classmates. The senior boy and girl were king and queen, while the others acted as attendants. The king and queen were crowned by John Bull, president of the student council.
